CALL TO WORSHIP    (responsively)

One: On this Mother's Day we gather in worship acknowledging that our relational and family situations are quite diverse.

All: We gather as young and old, single and married, widowed and divorced. We come happy and sad, joyful and grieving, but all seeking God's presence and direction for our lives.

One: Whatever the format of our family we gather to become part of the family of God, worshipping and learning together.

All: We come not just for ourselves but to set an example for our children and grandchildren, and the next generation of our church.

One: We come to worship the God of our parents and grandparents and of all those who have lived in faith before us.

All: Let us hold firmly to that faith we have received and that hope we profess, knowing we can trust God to keep his promises.

One: Let us be concerned for one another, and help one another show love and do good. Let us encourage one another as brothers and sisters in God's family.

All: We come together as God's people in this time of worship. May our Lord be honored and his name lifted up in praise!
